March '23 Elixir Roles

Enzyme – Senior Elixir Developer – up to $160k – 100% remote

Company info: a SaaS platform that allows medical device manufacturers to expedite the time it takes to receive FDA approval and get life saving products to market much faster than previously possible. Now an established scale up with a team of 8 engineers.

Role Description: join a collaborative and experienced team working on Elixir/Phoenix/LiveView. Team has the motto of 'strong opinions, weakly held'.

Salary: up to $160,000 base

Benefits: Remote first, unlimited PTO and stock options

Momenti – Senior Backend Elixir Developer – up to $190k – hybrid NYC

Company info: a content platform that allows interactive content that can be "touched" and engaged with. Breaking the 4th wall of online content to create visceral engagements in products and brands. Revolutionizing the world of content. Pre-series A with seed round exceeding Uber's Series A valuation.

Role description: Senior backend Elixir/Phoenix engineer working on re-architecting video processing pipeline. Also working with the R&D team using Ai to have a complete pipeline of data ingestion.

Salary: up to $190,000 base depending on experience

Benefits: Lucrative stock option, great offices in LA or NY, chance to be involved in one of the most exciting products not only in the elixir world but in the startup world.

Sage7 –Lead/Principal Elixir Developer – up to $200k – 100% remote

Company info: We're a fast-growing education technology company that's sprinting to build new features for the fanatically loyal subscribers who depend on us to conquer standardized tests with their peers. Our small, remote team moves at the pace of a startup, but we've been profitable since the day we were founded in 2012. If you come to 7Sage, you'll have a chance to work on thorny problems that immediately improve our users' experience, with no red tape, no pressure from investors, and no fiscal cliff.

Role Description: Act as principal to rebuild old PHP/VueJs application into Elixir, Phoenix, Typescript, React and PostGreSQL. You will have a huge amount of autonomy in refactoring and reimagining the current site or building something better from scratch. It's all green field.

Salary: up to $200k base

Benefits: Fully-remote work, 401(K) matching (3.5% for American employees only), Fully-paid health care, Equipment budget, Generous vacation and sick leave

Whippy – Senior Elixir Developer – up to $150k – hybrid LA

Company info: Whippy helps businesses scale through our powerful set of communication tools including Campaigns for marketing & mass messaging, Automations for workflow management, Sequences for sales & Team Inbox for customer support.

We are a small growing team in a fast moving industry and you need to be someone who thrives in the environment. Our Founding Team has raised over $20 million in prior startups from top investors including Andreessen Horowitz.

Role Description: You'll use Elixir, Postgres and ElasticSearch to build backend product features end to end to help us scale to 100s of millions of messages per day and enable complex communication workflows with real-time data synchronization. Work hybrid onsite with the team in LA.

Salary: up to $150k base

Benefits: meaningful equity, full health benefits, opportunity to travel to global offices